Type and length of interim order: The Fitness to Practise Committee determined to make an interim order of conditional registration from 2 October 2018 for a period of 18 months.

The Committee continued the IO conditions on 20 March 2019, 19 July 2019 and 9 January 2020. On 25 June 2020, the Committee changed the interim order of conditions into an interim order of suspension with immediate effect. This order was further reviewed on 14 September 2020 where the Committee continued the interim order of suspension.

The order will be further reviewed within 6 months from today unless all matters are resolved within that time, or earlier should new evidence be made available, or if the registrant, at any time after three months from today's date, requests an early review.
